Risk and Reward Profile

What does this indicator mean and what are its limits?

The indicator is based on the volatility of the returns (past performance) of the reported share class (calculated on a 5 year rolling return basis). Where a share class is inactive / has less than 5 years of returns, the returns of a representative benchmark are used.

There is no guarantee that the fund will remain in the indicator category shown above and the categorisation of the fund may shift over time. Historical data, which is used in calculating the indicator, may not be a reliable indicator of the future risk profile of this fund.

The lowest category does not mean a risk-free investment.

The fund does not offer any capital guarantee or protection and you may not get back the amount invested.

The Fund invests mainly in shares of companies from various countries and sectors. As a result, the performance of the Fund can fluctuate considerably over time.

The fund is subject to the following risks which are materially relevant but may not be adequately captured by the indicator:

Emerging markets investment: The fund may invest in the markets of countries which are smaller, less developed and regulated, and more volatile than the markets of more developed countries.

Fund currency: Changes in exchange rates between the currencies of investments held by the fund and the fund's base currency may negatively affect the value of an investment and any income received from it.

Fund operations: The fund is subject to the risk of loss resulting from inadequate or failed internal processes, people or systems or those of third parties such as those responsible for the custody of its assets, especially to the extent that it invests in developing countries.

Investment in company shares: The fund invests in shares of companies, and the value of these shares can be negatively affected by changes in the company, its industry or the economy in which it operates.

Master-limited Partnerships: The fund may invest in or have exposure to MLPs, which may offer fewer protections to investors than investments in corporations. MLPs may be difficult to sell quickly and subject to volatile price movements. Any change in the tax treatment of MLPs could cause a significant drop in the value of MLP investments.

Real Estate Investment Trusts: Investment in REITs poses similar risks as investing directly in real estate, including changing values, tax rules and other laws. The value of investments in REITs and the level of cash flow generated for distributions to investors may be affected by defaults by borrowers and tenants. The value of US REITs may be affected if the REIT fails to qualify for preferential treatment under US tax rules and securities laws.

For further explanation on the risks associated with an investment in the fund, please refer to the section entitled "Risk Factors" in the base prospectus and "Primary Risks" in the fund supplement.
