Templeton Global Total Return Bond Fund

Class W (acc) • ISIN GB00BBM4VB49 • A sub-fund of Franklin Templeton Funds
The management company is Franklin Templeton Fund Management Limited

Objectives and Investment Policy

Templeton Global Total Return Bond Fund (the “Fund”) aims to maximise total investment return by achieving an increase in the value of its investments, earning income and realising currency gains over the long term.

The Fund invests mainly in:

- debt securities of any quality (including lower quality) issued by governments, government-related or corporate entities located in any country (including securities in default)

The Fund can invest to a lesser extent in:

- mortgage- and asset-backed securities
- debt securities of supranational entities, such as the European Investment Bank
- derivatives for hedging and investment purposes that are used as an active investment management instrument to gain exposure to markets

The flexible and opportunistic nature of the strategy allows the investment team to take advantage of different market environments. By using in-depth economic, country and security research, including detailed risk analysis, Franklin Templeton’s large team of fixed income specialists looks to take advantage of these differences by identifying and investing in the strongest sources of income, capital growth and currency gain from fixed income anywhere around the world. In making investment decisions, the investment team uses in-depth research about various factors that may affect bond prices and currency values.

You may request the sale of your shares on any UK business day.

The income received from the Fund’s investments is accumulated and included in the value of the shares.

For further information on the Objectives and Investment Policy of the Fund, please refer to the “Investment Objectives and Policies of the Funds” section of the current prospectus of Franklin Templeton Funds.

Terms to Understand

Debt securities: Securities representing the issuer’s obligation to repay a loan at a specified date and to pay interest.

Derivatives: Financial instruments whose characteristics and value depend on the performance of one or more underlying assets, typically securities, indexes, currencies or interest rates.

Hedging: A strategy for totally or partially offsetting particular risks such as those arising from fluctuations in share prices, currencies or interest rates.

Mortgage-backed securities: Securities whose value and income payments are derived from the ownership of a pool of underlying mortgage debts.

Asset-backed securities: Debt securities whose value and income payments are derived from a pool of underlying assets.

Securities in default: Debt securities whose issuer condition has become uncertain and whose issuer is failing to make principal or interest payments when due.

Risk and Reward Profile

What does this indicator mean and what are its limits?

This indicator is designed to provide you with a measure of the price movement of this share class based on historical behavior.

Historical data may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time.

The lowest category does not mean risk free.

As the share class has no sufficient historical data available, simulated data based on a representative portfolio model or benchmark have been used instead.

Why is the Fund in this specific category?

The Fund invests mainly in debt securities issued by government, government-related or corporate entities worldwide and in derivatives. Such securities have historically been subject to price movements, generally due to interest rates, foreign exchange rates or movements in the bond market. As a result, the performance of the Fund can fluctuate considerably over time.

Risks materially relevant not adequately captured by the indicator:

Credit risk: the risk of loss arising from default that may occur if an issuer fails to make principal or interest payments when due. This risk is higher if the Fund holds low-rated, non-investment-grade securities.

Currency risk: the risk of loss arising from exchange-rate fluctuations or due to exchange control regulations.

Derivatives risk: the risk of loss in an instrument where a small change in the value of the underlying investment may have a larger impact on the value of such instrument. Derivatives may involve additional liquidity, credit and counterparty risks.

Liquidity risk: the risk that arises when adverse market conditions affect the ability to sell assets when necessary. Reduced liquidity may have a negative impact on the price of the assets.

For a full discussion of all the risks applicable to this Fund, please refer to the “Risk Factors” section of the current prospectus of Franklin Templeton Funds.
