

FTF Templeton Global Total Return Bond Fund

Class W (inc) • ISIN GB00BBM4VD62 • A sub-fund of Franklin Templeton Funds
The management company is Franklin Templeton Fund Management Limited

Objectives and Investment Policy

FTF Templeton Global Total Return Bond Fund (the "Fund") aims to achieve a total return, over a three to five-year period, from a combination of income, capital growth and currency gains.

The Fund intends to achieve its objective by investing at least two thirds (but typically significantly more) in:

- debt securities or bonds, issued by governments, government-related, supranational organisations and corporations in any industry, anywhere in the world; and
- derivatives

The Fund will typically limit exposure to bonds that are rated below investment grade (below BBB- by Standard & Poor's or Baa3 by Moody's) to no more than 50 % of the portfolio.

The Fund can invest in distressed securities which still present diverse opportunities to grow in value.

The Fund's managers can choose securities their research indicates have the strongest potential to meet the Fund's objective.

They are not constrained by any index.

The Fund may invest to a lesser extent in:

- mortgage and asset-backed securities;
- convertible bonds;

- structured products;
- other asset classes.

The Fund's performance can be compared to the Bloomberg Multiverse Index, which reflects investments in similar debt-related securities.

You may request the sale of your shares on any UK business day.

For the income share class shown in this document, dividend income is distributed to investors.

Risk and Reward Profile

What does this indicator mean and what are its limits?

This indicator is designed to provide you with a measure of the price movement of this share class based on historical behavior.

Historical data may not be a reliable indication of the future risk profile of the Fund. The category shown is not guaranteed to remain unchanged and may shift over time.

The lowest category does not mean risk free.

As the share class has no sufficient historical data available, simulated data based on a representative portfolio model or benchmark have been used instead.

Why is the Fund in this specific category?

The Fund invests mainly in debt securities issued by government, government-related or corporate entities worldwide and in derivatives. Such securities have historically been subject to price movements, generally due to interest rates, foreign exchange rates or movements in the bond market. As a result, the performance of the Fund can fluctuate considerably over time.

Risks materially relevant not adequately captured by the indicator:

Credit risk: the risk of loss arising from default that may occur if an issuer fails to make principal or interest payments when due. This risk is higher if the Fund holds low-rated, sub-investment-grade securities.

Foreign Currency risk: the risk of loss arising from exchange-rate fluctuations or due to exchange control regulations.

Derivative Instruments risk: the risk of loss in an instrument where a small change in the value of the underlying investment may have a larger impact on the value of such instrument. Derivatives may involve additional liquidity, credit and counterparty risks.

Liquidity risk: the risk that arises when adverse market conditions affect the ability to sell assets when necessary. Reduced liquidity may have a negative impact on the price of the assets.

For a full discussion of all the risks applicable to this Fund, please refer to the "Risk Factors" section of the current prospectus of Franklin Templeton Funds.
